About Jessica

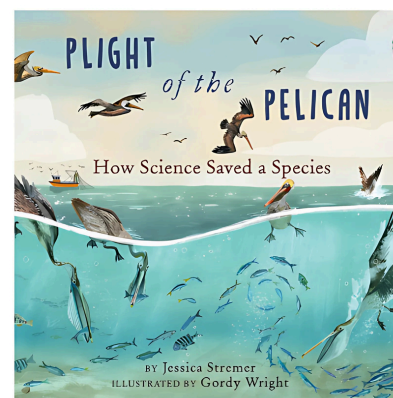

Jessica Stremmer is an award-winning children's book author who combines her love of science and writing to create books that inspire kids to explore and think critically about the world around them. Her books have received multiple starred reviews, the Cook Prize Silver Medal, the Junior Library Guild Gold Standard Selection, CCBC Choices Book, Bank Street Best Children's Book of the Year, and more. When not writing you can find Jessica cheering from the sideline of her kids' soccer games, spending time outdoors, and planning her next family adventure.
